The Right Idea About Progress.

MR. ARTHUR R. BRIGGS, who addressed the local Board of Trade here last week, expressed the identical sentiment concerning progress and the betterment of a community advanced by the Index-Tribune in articles on the subject from time to time.

We have often dwelt on the fact that the sections of this State which have best succeeded are those which have helped and are still helping themselves. In this age of everybody for himself and the devil take the hindmost, a community cannot sit idly by and hope to secure any prizes. In the first place it is not even permitted that we be treated fair, for Southern California, which has so well feathered her nest, is continually knocking Northern California lest we should get some of the settlers and investors who might wander here in quest of fairer lands. This being the case, our only means of combating this condition is to make ourselves and the true condition here known by illustrated advertising matter. It is true that Sonoma county does some general advertising, but, as Mr. Luce said, it is impossible to look out for every individual section, and he emphasized the fact that each particular section should have its particular Board of Trade and its individual advertising matter.

Mr. Briggs spoke of the opportunities for advertising at the Portland Fair. If we would have Sonoma Valley made known to the vast number of people who will come to the coast then, it is up to us to make haste.

Now that we have a Board of Trade something should be accomplished. Sentiment has been right concerning these matters hitherto but there was no authorized body through which they could be expressed. The Board of Trademakes all these things possible. May good work be done.

Will Farm Commissioners be Biased?

In regard to the University Farm, it is said that all proposed sites will be visited before any one is selected and that local influence or "pulls" will not be allowed to influence any member.

It is unfortunate, however, that Solano county wants the Farm so badly and that two of the commissioners hail from Solano, unfortunately for Sonoma county, for instance, and unfortunate for the men themselves, who want to be just and still do what they can for their own county. Two of the commissioners also come from Alameda county and the fifth from the south.

The Oakland papers are "pulling" hard for Alameda County so the Alameda commissioners are in the same boat as the Solano gentlemen. It has been suggested that it would have been better all around had the committee been selected from non-competing sections.

It is quite probable that before the bill for the Agricultural Farm was ever drafted that a suitable proposition was in mind—that there was an axe to grind some where. Who ever conceived the idea of having the legislature appropriate money had his eye on a location long ago and unless some other county can hold out substantial inducements it will have no show.

So it behooves Sonoma county to get in and offer a bonus to secure the Farm.

About Teachers.

It appears that there is a scarcity of men teachers in this State. The matter was brought up at a meeting of the joint Board of State Normal School Trustees at San Jose recently.

This condition of affairs is undoubtedly due to the fact that all teachers are under paid. Men can make more money in other lines and have more opportunities for advancement.

Then, too, men must be particularly adapted to the profession, otherwise they do not care to follow it, whereas a woman, who has less avenues of opportunity open to her, goes into teaching because it is often times easier to get into than any other line of work where the salary would be as good.

The men who would make good teachers will not teach, because the salaries are not sufficient. Cheap men will make cheap teachers, however, and they are not desirable. So if we would get the right kind of men to teach school the salaries should be uniformly raised.

A mistake often made by trustees in selecting a teacher is that of selecting one altogether from the standpoint of scholarship credentials. The brainy man or woman is not always the best teacher. He or she is generally not. Better choose a person of mediocre brains, tact, common sense and personality than the mental wonder. One may know a lot but never be able to impart it or be able to create a desire for the knowledge of it in the student. A teacher cannot learn a thing for the pupil, so teaching is really not so much a matter of brains as it is of ingenuity. If more teachers were chosen from this standpoint there would be more satisfaction.

A woman named Suett is said to be very thin. What's in a name?

The Chronicle contained an excellent write up for Sonoma county this week.

There is no better place to stop in San Francisco, than at the Langham Hotel, corner of Ellis and Mason streets. It is six stories high, fire-proof, convenient to all attractions, close to all car lines, and offers all the advantages of superior hotel service at small cost. The rooms are large, clean and well ventilated and the management courteous, polite and hospitable. Write for booklet and rates.

Vacation 1905.

The booklet Vacation 1905 issued by the California Northwestern is a handsome publication and furnishes valuable information to those who would take a vacation along the "picturesque route of California."

It contains an account of mineral springs resorts, hotels and homes along the different branches and main line of the road.

All the resorts in Sonoma Valley, including private homes who will take summer boarders, are to be found in this booklet.

Birthday Party.

Miss Jennie Marcucci was tendered a birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Marcucci of Embarcadero, last Saturday evening. Thirty-five invited guests participated in the festivities, which consisted of dancing, feasting and a good time generally.

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.

A NEW SANITARIUM FOR INTERNAL AND SKIN DISEASES.

The Finsen Sanitarium has opened permanent headquarters at 563 Eleventh street, near Clay street, Oakland, Cal.

This institution is one of three in the United States, and the only Sanitarium on the Coast equipped with the Finsen System.

All royal and medical authorities of Europe have given their endorsement to this method for the treatment of diseases, and at the Paris Exposition it was awarded the gold medal.

Much attention has been directed to the Finsen System since its recent establishment in this locality. Many persons who heretofore have only been able to read of the marvelous cures are now enabled to take these treatments by traveling but a few miles from their homes.

With equipments which are not to be found elsewhere, the Finsen Sanitarium is better prepared than any other sanitarium on the Pacific Coast for the treatment of chronic diseases such as Rheumatism, Gout, Kidney and Stomach Troubles, Diabetes, Lupus, Private Diseases, Cancerous and Blood Diseases. Write for information.

Townpeople in Trouble.

Many people are troubled with poor eyesight and many more suffer with headaches due to eye-weakness. If sufferers could submit their cases to a reliable optician instant relief would be afforded. The largest firm of manufacturing opticians in California has adopted a policy which permits the people of this locality to obtain the relief they need. An expert optician from the Chinn-Beretta Optical Company visits this locality every six weeks and his advent is always announced in this paper. Eye sufferers should watch for his coming and consult him when he arrives. He makes his headquarters at L. S. Simmons' drug store. Every one who seeks the services of an expert is thus enabled to obtain them without going to the expense of a trip to the city. This should appeal to all who have eye-troubles or who are using glasses at present which are unsatisfactory. The Chinn-Beretta Optical Company are the largest manufacturers of eye-glasses and spectacle lenses on the Pacific Coast, having stores and factories at San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento and Stockton, and guarantee all their work. The prices asked are said to be the lowest, as the firm sells direct to its customers at manufacturer's prices. L. S. Simmons, local agent.

Just as the Man Said

Chicago, Feb. 27, 1905.

Dear Pappa:

Mamma and me got home yesterday on time. We had a lively journey and didn't get tired a bit. We never changed cars once and saw all the lovely scenery on the denver and rio grand road in day time just as the man said we would and gee whiz the mountains was high. A man came with our car all the way and he took good care we had a nice time. When you cum home be sure you take the denver and rio grand tourist excursion car and you will have as good fun as we did and not cost much either. There office is at 625 Market street in San Francisco. If you will write there they will send you some nice picture books for nothing.

With love from your son

WIFE GRANTED

FINAL DECREE

Minnie Tenney Granted Divorce on Grounds of Extreme

Cruelty.

Minnie B. Tenney was granted a final decree of divorce from J. B. Tenney on Thursday in the Superior Court by Judge Burnett.

Mrs. Tenney alleged that her husband had been guilty of extreme cruelty. She recited the fact that he had brought another woman named Mildred Horn into their home to whom he made love and called on clearing names and whom he refused to make good when his wife complained. She told how Tenney had dragged her a distance of sixty feet on one occasion and then threw her violently to the ground while he let the woman called Mildred strike her in the face.

Mrs. Tenney married Tenney in Juneau, Alaska, where he was a customs officer.

According to Mrs. Sophie Carter, Harry Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel and others Tenney had compelled his wife to harness the horse, milk the cow, attend to the chickens, unload sacks of grain from the wagon, build chicken houses, etc. All of which she did because she was afraid to refuse lest her husband should abuse her.

Their child was awarded to the wife.

The California Northwestern Presents Bouquets to its Patrons, on Sunday.

The California Northwestern's annual custom of distributing wild flower bouquets to its patrons was observed again on Sunday last, when four hundred bouquets were presented to the passengers on this branch of the road.

Five of Sonoma's prettiest and most winsome young ladies were the flower girls and gave to each one of the "wild flower day" travelers golden poppies. The girls were Misses Amy Engler, Inez Reed, Ruth Poppe, Mamie Fochetti and P. Landgrebe. They had white ribbon bands on their large summer hats bearing the inscription C. N. W. R'y and each of the bouquets they carried bore a card on which was printed "compliments of the California Northwestern Railway." The pretty compliment was much appreciated, as it always is by the patrons of the road.

The first Sunday after the first of May the late train will be put on and the summer schedule will go into effect May the first.

Particulars of Little Mildred Cooper's Death.

The following particulars concerning little Mildred Cooper's death, which was caused by an electric car, has been received from Tacoma, Washington:

"In company with her brother she had gone with a carrier who was delivering papers. They were gathering flowers and had stopped to play in the sand by the side of the track, about two blocks north of Parker street station. When the car came along the boys ran but the little girl did not get far enough away, being apparently dazed. The projecting step of the car which was the Fern Hill 'tripper' struck her on the side. The car was stopped and the injured child was taken to the residence of Rev. Wilder, where every possible attention was given her.

The parents arrived shortly after the accident. The little girl knew them but sight had been affected by the shock and she could not see. Dr. Love, who was summoned, administered stimulants but all efforts were unavailing. The examination showed that no bones were broken. Death ensued from internal injuries and the shock.

The body was then taken to the home of the parents and the funeral was held Tuesday from the Methodist church at Fern Hill. Interment was in Lake View cemetery, Seattle, beside her aunt and cousin.

Juvenile Literature Discussed at the Woman's Club.

On Saturday afternoon the ladies of Sonoma who were fortunate enough to be at the Woman's Club had a genuine treat in hearing Mrs. Bird of the Adelphean Club, Alameda, in her talk on Juvenile Literature. It was a talk brim full of good ideas for mothers or those who have the raising of children. Mrs. Bird declared that the mind should be fed as well as the body and that the soul of the child should be allowed to secrete noble thoughts.

She dwelt on the good that follows the memorizing of poetry and thereby the training of the child to love melody. She spoke of the beauty of such child verse as that of Fielding Riley and Kipling. Mrs. Bird urged that a right habit of thought be instilled in the children and that thirst for the beautiful be created within them. She expressed herself as believing in the results which would follow the learning of the elementary principles of discrimination.

She upheld the reading of good fairy tales and declared that animal stories were also good for children because of their humanizing effect. In the latter class she named Kipling's Jungle Books and Ernest Seton Thompson's stories.

She denounced the comic supplement of the modern journals as pernicious. Altogether the talk was an excellent one and was greatly appreciated by those present.

A few musical numbers followed and then tea was served.

As a souvenir of Sonoma's Club Mrs. Bird was presented with a picture of the Mission San Francisco Solano.

ODDLY NAMED TOWNS

QUEER TITLES THAT DOT THE MAPS OF UNCLE SAM.

This Nomenclature Peculiarity is Not confined to Any One Part of the Country, but Leads itself Impartially to All Sections.

The names of some towns in the United States probably cause their inhabitants considerable vexations when away from home, says the Chicago Chronicle. These names have certain peculiar meanings in everyday talk and as soon as they are mentioned they are apt to prompt troublesome questions by funmakers. For example, the man from Alone, Ky., might have to explain to a stranger living in New York how he could do business if he were the only inhabitant and how the excise laws were enforced if the barkeeper, the toper, the policeman and the magistrate were all one and the same and in case there were more than one person in Alone if all were bachelors and old maids. Citizens of Lonely, N. C., and Lonesome, Ky., would encounter much the same sort of questions, and all of course, would finally be asked if they were once Jersey commuters.

If a man hailed from Affinity, N. C., he would naturally be supposed to be married and his home life an unpunctuated chapter of bliss. He would be expected to wear as wide a smile as the citizen of Joy or Happy, Tex., or Paradise, Colo., with a temper as subdued as the inhabitants of Purity, Minn. What would happen, however, if the man from Affinity should meet a man from Peace, Ala., would, indeed, be problematical. They might, after the fashion of some westerners, boom the merits of their respective towns with such ardor that at last these representatives of Peace and Affinity would come to blows. They might at last develop as much disreputable encounters as the citizens of Cream, Wis., who should chance to take dinner with a citizen of Caviar, N. J. On the other hand, the townsman of those three towns in the states of Colorado, Oregon and West Virginia which all bear the name of Crook.

Any one coming from Eye, N. C., could hardly expect to join the New York police force and find things congenial. If he was a native of Lax, Ala., or Blind Bay, La., on the contrary, his duties as a metropolitan blue-coat might prove congenial. If he said he was from Sodom, O., he would most likely be told that his own town must need his services more. If he replied that it didn't, he might be recommended to try to get a position in Pluto, Miss.

Near the Green river in Kentucky and several miles south of Loveston there is a town by the name of Pig. It has never been recorded in any history of the United States whether the characteristics of the people of Pig are any different from those of the people of Lamb, Ill., or Chickies, Pa. This is certainly to be regretted. It would certainly be interesting to know if the worthy burghers of Pig are any more happy and contented than other human beings, whether they have such ills as insomnia, nervous prostration or melancholia; whether there is any sale in Pig for appetizers, and what the good people do on Fridays.

Should a woman from Big Foot, Tex., or Antiquity, O., advertise for a husband it is safe to say she would not get as many answers as a woman from Beauty, W. Va. The man who hailed from Jug, Ala., might have more difficulty in being elected to the White Ribbon society than his contemporary from Dry Town, Cal. The native of Magic, Ala., would no doubt be welcomed by certain Wall Street officers where a citizen from Fairplay, Wis., would find the door shut. Should the woman from Alamode, Cal., or Freshion, Cal., meet a woman from Jaysville, O., the two might get into such a controversy that at the end they would both be believed to be natives of Loongville, N. Y. The citizen of Fossil, Ore., unlike the citizen of Quick, Neb., would no doubt feel very much at home in Philadelphia, and for much the same reasons the representative of Fact, Kan., would find a congenial atmosphere in Boston. Vegetarians should go to Grass, S. D.

Any one might think that Ice, Ga., would become a more popular summer resort than Hell Hole, Colo. A jury made up of men half of whom were born in Japan, Mo., and the other half in Russia, N. Y., would be pretty sure to disagree. At any rate, they would not call in a man from Jung, Tenn., for a necromancer. Should the girl from Leapyear, Tenn., become dissatisfied with things at home there is little danger of her settling in Bachelor, Mich. Neither would the man from Langor, Minn., think of moving to Jump, O.

A man may travel from Dan to Beer-sheba nowadays and think it a very short journey. There is a Dan in Kentucky and a Beer-sheba over the line in Tennessee. Neither is the trip from London to Pekin a long one in the United States. Ohio contains both a Pekin and a London, and it is not a long journey from Whiskey Buttes, Mont., to Seven Devils, Ida.

Crickets in Japan.
There is a large green cricket in Japan of which the children of that country are fond. It is sold in running little bamboo cages in booths on the streets and is loved for its cheery chirp. Several varieties of tree crickets are pure white, coming at different times of the year. Some have a note so loud and insistent that to have two or three playing their fiddles in a garden at once makes a noise almost deafening, while a species that comes late in the fall has an exquisite note like the quick ringing of a small bell.

There is no instinct like that of the heart.—Byron.

GLOOMY BRIC-A-BRAC.

Coffin Plates Once Used as House Ornaments in Maine.

In New England 100 years ago it was by no means uncommon for people to provide their coffins long before their death and keep the same in their houses, where they could see them every day. It was perhaps a custom having the same purpose and significance as the skeleton at the feasts of the ancient Greeks, to remind the living in their hours of levity of the seriousness of life and the certainty of death.

This was not the idea, however, of a man named Lindsey, whom people now living in Leeds may remember or at least have heard of. He built his own coffin many years before he died and used to keep it in a chamber of his house. He used it generally to keep beans in. It was a very fine coffin, made of mahogany and nicely finished and polished. Mr. Lindsey made it with his own hands and gave as reason that if he left the task of providing him with a coffin to his sons it would be just like them to put him in a hemlock one. Perhaps the boys did not relish the implication. At any rate, they did not like to have the coffin about the house and took it away one night and threw it into the river. It was found several miles below, considerably broken and battered as it went over the rocks, and old Lindsey heard about it, drove down and got it and was finally buried in it.

Another queer custom that prevailed in this section of Maine down to a comparatively recent date was that of removing the plate from the coffin after the funeral and just before the body was lowered into the grave and keeping it in the best room in the house among the ornaments and bric-a-brac. The writer saw one of these gruesome exhibits on the mantel of a Lincolnville parlor not more than twenty-five years ago, and we shouldn't be surprised if quite a number of them could be found in the old houses throughout Maine.—Bangor News.

BOOKS.

A collection of books is a real university.—Carlyle.

Some books are to be tested, others to be swallowed and some few to be chewed and digested.—Bacon.

A good book is the precious lifeblood of a master spirit ennobled and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life.—Milton.

We can take reproof patiently from a book, but not from a tongue. The book hurts not our pride; the living reprover does.—T. Adams.

If the secret history of books could be written, how many insipid volumes would become interesting and dull tales excite the reader!—Thackeray.

Of all the privileges we enjoy in this century there is none perhaps for which we ought to be more thankful than for the easier access to books.—Lubbock.

Women's Cruelty.

A society woman at a dinner in Washington adverted to cruelty.

"Women can be very cruel," she said. "Some of them can be very cunning too. Some of them can wound you so destructively that before you know you have been wounded their escape is made."

"Once I saw a young woman wound a slightly older one in that way. She approached the older one at a ball. She greeted her with a radiant smile. She inflicted her wound, and while her victim still thought the wound a compliment, she walked away. This is what, in a very loud, clear voice, she said:

"Oh, Helen, dear, that perfect gown! I think it looks lovelier every year!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Meteors.

The heights of many meteors have been measured by W. F. Denning, the English astronomer. It appears that the swift meteors become visible at an average height of eighty-four miles and disappear at fifty-six miles, while the very slow meteors come in sight at about sixty-five miles and fade away at thirty-eight miles. Of the very slow meteors those that become visible at the greatest heights come twenty miles nearer the earth than those of very low radiant.

The Three Points of View.

The stork came.

Said the man, "My salary is no larger."

Said the woman, "Now I shall be tied down."

Said the newspaper, "Mr. and Mrs. B. are rejoicing in the birth of a son."

—Life.

Her Fate.

Mrs. De Work—I have trained my eldest daughter into a thorough housekeeper. There is nothing she does not know. Miss De Flight—What a nice, handy maiden aunt she will make for your other daughters' children!

Her Excuse.

Mistress—Don't deny it, Bridget. I saw you permit that policeman to kiss you last evening. Bridget—Well, ma'am ye wouldn't have me be locked up for resistin' an officer, would ye?—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Vital Spot.

"My goodness! Mrs. McTalker was shot by a burglar last night!" "Did he hit her in a vital spot?" "Well—er—yes. The bullet lodged in her jaw."—Cleveland Leader.

Contrary Winds.

Tommy looking over the weather predictions:—Mamma, what is a contrary wind? Mrs. Tucker (putting another pin or two in her hat)—Any wind, Tommy.—Chicago Tribune.

A QUEER FISH.

The Now, Scarcely Dugong Is the Mermaid of Fabled Lore.

The strangest of all strange fish must surely be the manatee and the dugong. The latter is the mermaid of fabled lore. The dugong live in flocks along the shores of the Indian ocean, the Red sea and the gulf of Mannar, where they browse on seaweed and river vegetation. They are very affectionate in disposition, and especially is this shown in the love of the mother for her offspring, which is much stronger than the instinct of self preservation. Neither will the male leave the female if she be attacked, and instances are on record where the companions of the manatee gathered round and made an effort to withdraw the deadly harpoon. It is supposed that the rude approach to the human outline observed in the shape of the head of the dugong, the attitude of the mother in clasping her young to her breast with one flipper while swimming with the other, holding both above water, and suddenly diving and showing her fishlike tail when alarmed, gave rise to the mermaid myth, first told by the Arab seamen. Jules Verne gives a thrilling description of the capture of a dugong in the Red sea, when its flesh was desired as food. Naturalists tell us that the flesh of the manatee and the dugong much resembles well fattened pork of pleasant flavor, and is highly esteemed as food. For this reason they were much hunted and are fast becoming extinct.—Field and Stream.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for a gripple," say more lives, Edson Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but that this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Shoults & Co.

The roads are in fine condition since the recent rain.

About Rheumatism

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Shoults & Co.

There will be a short crop of pears and cherries in this valley this season.

Rheumatic Pains Quickly Relieved.

The great pain relieving power of this solvent has been proved in the relief of thousands of sufferers. The quick relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. A catfish weighing eleven pounds was recently caught in Sonoma creek by Wm. Church.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Troubles—No Family Can Afford to be Without It.

I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as one of the very best remedies for bowel troubles," says Mr. W. J. Hanlon, editor of the Dispatch, Ceila, Georgia. "I make this statement after having used the medicine in my family for several years. I am never without it." So family can afford to be without a bottle of this remedy in the house. It is certain to be needed sooner or later. For sale by Shoults & Co.

The rainfall last week was very beneficial to crops in this valley.

It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Health is Youth.

Herbina, taken every morning before breakfast, will keep you in robust health and fit you to ward off disease. It cures constipation, biliousness, indigestion, fever, skin, liver and kidney complaints. It purifies the blood and clears the complexion. Mrs. D. W. Smith, Whitney, Texas, writes April 3, 1902: "I have used Herbina and find it the best medicine for constipation and liver troubles. It does all you claim for it. I can highly recommend it." 50c, Sold by L. S. Simmons.
